Fresh Window is pleased to present a solo exhibition by the Swiss artist Susanne Hofer. Slamming Doors and A Rocking Ship exhibits Hofer's multi media works throughout the gallery reflecting on temporary housing, modular spaces and aerial changes. The photographed or filmed situations or places serve as the basis for Hofer's work, she edits, animates or combines them with materials producing installations. In her new work Wohnmaschine, the German word for Corbusier's Unité d'Habitation, giving a nod to the architect's "vertical garden city", is constructed of cardboard shipping boxes stacked atop each other with projections of doors and windows, responding to Corbusier's vision of the personal inner space and communal outdoor living for inhabitants to come together. Hofer's recent work in this exhibition examines urban movements, deteriorated spaces and neglected moments, thereby giving presence to an otherwise overlooked area. Hofer has a keen eye and brings awareness to ignored and unnoticed objects and areas of our everyday life.
